Dropping off and collecting your child safely

I'm sure everyone will appreciate that we have a lot of Students participating in this event. In some cases we are using public areas and we need to be mindful of our impact on both the areas we are visiting and other users. Please do, if it is appropriate, consider lift-sharing and make sure Students and bags are organised for an efficient drop-off.

Please use the Google Pins or full addresses to find the locations – Some venues are in rural areas and Postcode alone will not guide you accurately.

Kit

Students should arrive packed for the full expedition, including food. Advice on menu planning, choosing kit and packing will be covered in training and students can refer to our Course notes for ideas in advance of this

<https://www.lupineadventure.co.uk/dofe-resources/#resource1>

Some items of equipment are essential to safety and we may not be able to take your child on expedition if they arrive without these. They are:

- Appropriate clothing including warm layers, hat and gloves (no jeans)
- Full waterproofs (over jacket and trousers) – even if the forecast seems fine.
- Suitable footwear – This should be hiking boots with ankle support
- Any personal medication.
- Sleeping bag and mat
- An expedition backpack (minimum 60litres)
- Sun cream and hat.
- Sufficient food
- Personal hygiene supplies, including hand sanitiser – we may not pass proper toilet facilities – a strong zip-lock bag should be used to carry out any paper, wipes or sanitary products used.
- Food and snacks for a full active days.
- Water bottles or hydration pack (2 litres minimum – ideally in two separate bottles/containers in case one is lost or broken).

If you have a concern or query about equipment or are struggling to provide an item of essential equipment for any reason email lupine@lupineadventure.co.uk – we will probably be able to lend you the items from our stores. If emailing please state the name of your school, your child and which bits of equipment you would like to borrow.

Code of Conduct and Mobile Phone Policy

Please ensure that you read our code of conduct and mobile phone policies (included at the end of this letter) The Duke of Edinburgh Award Charity requires there is a policy on mobile phones and other electronic equipment. You can support your young person in their adherence to the mobile phone policy by not expecting or prompting communications home. Please note that both participants and staff may be out of phone signal at various times during the expedition, this is unavoidable. We do, however, ensure that participants know how to summon any necessary assistance at all times.

Preparing for success

Participation in a Duke of Edinburgh Expedition is not a guarantee of a pass. We will be doing all we can to prepare and train Participants for a successful expedition but on Assessed expedition they must fulfil the Expedition requirements as verified by an accredited DofE Assessor to pass. We will be covering the Expedition Requirements during training and you can also familiarise yourself with them here <https://www.dofe.org/wp-content/uploads/2023/03/Expedition-Aim-and-Requirements-1.pdf>

If your child needs to leave Expedition early

Due to falling ill or any other reason we will need you to collect them. Please make sure that you, or another trusted adult is near enough by to do so throughout the Expeditions.

Emergency contact

Should you have need to make contact with your young person during any Lupine event you can call the Lupine Office on 0113 410 3712. They will know where your young person is and have contact with the person looking after them. It will help if you know the name of the group that your student is in.

Code of Conduct for participants on Lupine DofE Expeditions

This code of conduct is to promote the safety and enjoyment of everyone on expeditions.

We ask that you:

1. Carry out all instructions given by all staff, in particular relating to your own health and safety and that of other team members.
2. Comply with the Countryside Code.
3. Work co-operatively as a team, staying together and helping each other.
4. Once you have arrived on a campsite you must not leave the campsite until you set off the next morning.
5. Respect the privacy of other team members by not entering tents belonging to other team members without invitation.
6. Respect other campsite users and the wider public by behaving sensibly, remaining in your tent from the agreed time, and keeping noise levels to a minimum (especially if you are up early).
7. Use of mobile phones is allowed in line with our mobile phone policy (see below).

Our first priority is the safety and well-being of our participants. Due to the nature of the Duke of Edinburgh programme breaches of this Code of Conduct will be taken seriously. Students who fall short of these expectations may be removed from the programme and parents may be contacted to collect participants at any point.

Mobile phone policy.

Mobile phones can be carried for emergency use and data collection in pursuit of your aim.

Please do not use your mobile phone for anything other than:

- 1) Contacting your expedition supervisor.
- 2) Calling the emergency services if you have a medical emergency.
- 3) Only when instructed by your Supervisor call or text home to give an update on the expected finish time.

The Assessor and Supervisor may also agree to mobiles being used for specific purposes such as taking photographs or videos as part of your aim. In this case the phone should be in airplane mode to conserve battery power.

If these rules are adhered to battery packs are not necessary and are therefore banned from all Bronze and Silver expeditions.

PLEASE MAKE YOUR PARENTS AWARE OF THIS POLICY SO THAT THEY KNOW THEY WON'T BE ABLE TO CONTACT YOU VIA YOUR MOBILE PHONE
